

To Pesia, Bracha and all the Bat Yam chapter.

To President Nira Greenstein and all the office staff - project chairman Lona, Shosh and Anita

In my name - Mira Tal - and in the name of the small delegation of Sachlev Chapter that arrived at the conference this year, "you were great" - the wonderful organization, the order, the excellent hotel and the most important - meeting with everybody. We began with Rabbi Yisrael Lau who moved us with his life story. The laughter, appreciation and energies that Miriam Peretz managed to convey to us through her personal story and the support she gives to all those who paid with the lives of parents, soldiers and other family members in different parts of the country, is worthy of admiration and we are amazed by this remarkable woman. In the evening the dancing managed to move our legs and we joyfully sang to the strains of songs that have long since been heard. The next day, began with the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Esther Hayut in her lecture on democracy, education and responsibility, were milestones and material for thought, her down-to-earth personality and willingness to be photographed with us warmed our hearts.

From the young and energetic Hadassah Mount Scopus director, Dr. Tamar Elram, we were updated on laying the cornerstone for the new Rehabilitation Center, (for which we will continue this year to fundraise), development and new buildings which will allow the hospital to provide a complete response to the surrounding population needs. Brigadier General (Res.) Avigdor Kahalani, with sometimes painful sincerity, spoke about part of the decision-making by officials at the highest levels in the various parts of the country. He spoke about us and democracy through the personal experiences he had undergone through at various stations of his life, and he knew too how to spice it up with humor. The last lecture by Isaac Herzog, as is sometimes the case with other lectures, was brief and stressful, but it did not spoil our good and interesting experience.

Thank you all for everything.

I can say that whoever did not come missed out.

I am waiting for the next year's conference and wish success to the Shoshana Chapter in Netanya.

Mira and the representatives of the Sachlev Chapter.
